Senior Guest Auditor
Courses for your Consideration Fall 2021

PLEASE NOTE: First day of M/W courses start Wednesday, September 8, 2021
First day of T/Th courses start Thursday, September 9, 2021

- This document contains potential courses to consider for the upcoming semester. Please keep in mind that there are no guarantees—we are not able to check with every instructor—but these courses might be realistic possibilities for you. A permission request must be completed to ask for permission to audit any of these courses. The online permission request form is located on the senior guest auditor webpage here: https://acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/
- Senior guests are allowed in classrooms to audit in-person. Please make sure to check the COVID-19 Response webpage before attending classes for updates.
- The list of potential courses in this document also has Course Descriptions if available.
- Online courses are limited for fall term and are highlighted in yellow.
- Online course mode: Synchronous courses meet virtually (online) at the specific date and time listed. Asynchronous courses means there is not a specific date and time the class meets. Asynchronous courses may or may not have a recorded lectures, instead there may be readings, videos, online activities, group work, etc. for their curriculum.
- Once you have decided on a class you would like to audit, complete the electronic permission to enroll form located on the senior guest auditor webpage by September 8 at https://acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/
- Filling out the online permission to enroll form will be your official request to enroll in the course. You will be notified later via your wisc.edu email when you have received permission or not.
- Submitting the online permission to enroll form does not guarantee you will receive permission to enroll in the course. This will come later in an email verification via your wisc.edu email.
- Enroll in the course. Starting Wednesday September 8 AND after the permission has been entered by the department, enroll in your class via Course Search and Enroll found in your MyUW portal at http://my.wisc.edu . Enrollment help can be found on our website https://acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors under step 7. “Enroll in classes”.

For more course possibilities, go to our Senior Guest Auditor webpage https://acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ and select 5. “Search for classes”.

Adult Career & Special Student Services
Division of Continuing Studies, UW-Madison
21 North Park Street, 7th Floor, Suite 7101
Madison, WI  53715-1218
Website: acsss.wisc.edu or email: advising@dcs.wisc.edu
Tel: 608-263-6960/Fax: 608-265-2901
African Cultural Studies 100-001* Intro Afr Cultural Expression Class# 24957
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:55AM-10:45AM Location: SOC SCI 6104
Instructor: Moorman, Marissa Jean
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: An introduction to current research in African cultural studies, ranging from various literary genres and uses of discourse; to diverse media including screen media, music, cartoons, and journalism; and to other forms of popular expression like soccer and drama. Through an introduction to these forms, students will also gain an overview of the diverse methods used by scholars in this field, such as textual analysis, film criticism, ethnomusicology, discourse analysis, and ethnography; and to the cultural diversity of Africa and its diasporic cultures.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

African Cultural Studies 277-001* Africa: Introductory Survey Class# 23873
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 9:55AM-10:45AM Location: HUMANITIES 2650
Instructor: Kodesh, Neil Ronen
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description:

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Afro-American Studies 151-001* Intro-Contemp Afro-Am Soc Class# 15882
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 4:00PM-5:15PM Location: INGRAHAM 223
Instructor: Ifatunji, Mosi Adesina
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Survey of the characteristics and problems of Afro-Americans in contemporary society.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Afro-American Studies 156-001* Black Music&Am Cultrl Hist Class# 16950
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:30AM-10:45AM Location: HUMANITIES 2340
Instructor: Shashko, Alexander Philip
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: This course examines the interaction between Afro-American musical culture and its historical context, with an emphasis on the period from 1920 to the present.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Afro-American Studies 231-001* Intro to Afro-Am History Class# 27899
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:55AM-10:45AM Location: GRAINGER 2120
Instructor: Clark-Pujara, Christy M
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Survey from the African beginnings to the present day. Focus on slave trade and slavery; major black figures of the past; social, economic, and political trends within the black community.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Afro-American Studies 272-001* Race&Am Pol:New Deal-New Right Class# 19152
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 11:00AM-12:15PM Location: GRAINGER 3190
Instructor: Shashko, Alexander Philip
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Survey of the decisive role played by race in American politics, 1932-present. Focus on origins and accomplishments of "the Second Reconstruction"; Black Power and white backlash; contemporary racial politics and issues.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Afro-American Studies 326-001* Race&Gendr-Post-WW II US Soc Class# 35486
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 11:00AM-12:15PM Location: STERLING 2425
Instructor: Greene, Christina R
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Assesses how race and gender (as well as socio-economic status, age, sexuality, region, etc.) shaped the experiences and options of African Americans, especially women, in U.S. society from WW II to the present.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Afro-American Studies 624-001* Afr Am Women’s Activism 19-20C Class# 35503
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 2:30PM-3:45PM Location: EDUCATION L185
Instructor: Davis, Thulani
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Examines Black women's struggles for racial justices; reconsiders conventional notions of leadership, politics and protest. Topics include abolitionism, anti-lynching campaigns, woman suffrage, labor movement, club movement, cultural expressions, civil rights protest, Black feminism/womanism, poverty and welfare rights, environmental racism, etc.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

---

American Indian Studies 100-001* Intro-Amer Indian Studies Class# 23027
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 2:25PM-3:15PM Location: HUMANITIES 2650
Instructor: Smith, Jennifer Rose jrsmith39@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021

Course Description: Focus is history, social organization, political experience, artistic expression of North American Indians, using methods and materials from a number of disciplines as an introduction to the interdisciplinary field.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

---

American Indian Studies 250-001* Indians of Wisconsin Class# 33896
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:30AM-10:20AM Location: EDUCATION L185
Instructor: Dominguez, Susan Rose srdominguez@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021

Course Description: Introduces students to the various American Indian Nations within Wisconsin's borders with an emphasis on their history, culture, and sovereignty. Examines individual tribes and bands as well as common issues that affect tribal and non-tribal people in Wisconsin.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

---

American Indian Studies 330-001* American Indian Communities Class# 36423
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:30AM-10:45AM Location: NANCY NICHOLAS HALL 2235
Instructor: Dodge Francis, Carolee dodgefrancis@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021

Course Description: Learn about contemporary Native communities, both domestically and globally, through a carefully curated selection of readings, podcasts, and videos from Indigenous scholars, community members, knowledge holders, and activists. Offers a broad historical overview of Native American communities in the United States that illustrates the historical trajectory from early colonization and dispossession through self-determination and the recognition of tribal sovereignty in action by local, state, and federal governments.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed
when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Anthropology 104-001* Cult Anthro&Human Diversity Class# 14053
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:55AM-10:45AM Location: INGRAHAM B10
Instructor: Camal, Jerome Sebastien
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Introduction to cultural anthropology for non-majors; comparative cross-cultural consideration of social organization, economics, politics, language, religion, ecology, gender, and cultural change. Includes 25% coverage of U.S. ethnic and racial minorities.

If an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Anthropology 212-001* Principles of Archaeology Class# 14931
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 11:00AM-11:50AM Location: SOC SCI 6104
Instructor: Clayton, Sarah C
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: This course introduces students to the methods, historical development, and scientific principles of archaeology. Through a combination of lecture, discussion, and laboratory activities, students discover how archaeologists generate and interpret information about the human past. The course familiarizes students with scientific inquiry and provides a foundation for pursuing advanced archaeological courses and field research.

If an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Art History 227-001* The Ends of Modernism Class# 36124
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:30AM-10:45AM Location: ELVEHJEM L160
Instructor: Spaulding, Daniel Martin
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: This course considers the end of Modernist art as it gives way to what is called, problematically, contemporary art. While the term modern may generally mean what is vanguard or current, Modernism indicates a period of art (and the humanities) ranging from, arguably, 1880-1950. By considering its end, one can study four pivotal aspects of the movement: its origins, themes, and afterlives, as well as the art and histories that challenge its coherence. In this thematic survey, then, Modernism will emerge as a heterogeneous set of images and attendant discourses which, negatively or positively, continue to work within the contemporary artistic and cultural moment.

If an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor
Art History 303-001* Agency and Image in Asia Class# 31200
Class meets: Monday Wednesday Friday 12:05PM-12:55PM Location: ELVEHJEM L140
Instructor: Kim, Young
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: How do humans interact with images? Why are certain images feared, revered, loved, or hated? What kinds of cultural, artistic, and psychological processes charge images with "agency or capacity to act? This course explores the various ways in which images in both two- and three-dimensional forms become agentive forces with the power to act upon humans, including formal and stylistic choices, ritual and religious contexts, myth and storytelling, reproduction and repetition. While largely considering examples from premodern Asia (6-19c), the course cultivates a cross-cultural sensibility in understanding different ontologies and discourses on the power of images. To this end, students will be introduced to key theories and revealing literary anecdotes from East and West regarding how images act on and interact with humans. Students will be asked to practice comparative thinking. For example, what are some of the commonalities and differences in the way people across different cultures have responded to pictorial illusionism (a picture that deceives the senses to appear like a three-dimensional object)? What can images intended to influence reality teach us about the varying definitions and constructions of reality?
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Art History 379-001* Cities of Asia Class# 30898
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 2:30PM-3:45PM Location: ELVEHJEM L140
Instructor: Chopra, Preeti
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Historical overview of the built environment of cities of Asia from antiquity to the present; architectural and urban legacy in its social and historical context; exploration of common themes that thread through the diverse geographical regions and cultures of Asia.
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Art History 411-001* Mondern & Contemp Chinese Art Class# 31201
Class meets: Monday Wednesday Friday 11:00AM-11:50AM Location: ELVEHJEM L150
Instructor: Li, Yuhang
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: In the beginning of this century, China plays a crucial role in the international art world. But what does it mean to be a Chinese artist in the modern age? How did Chinese art become what it is today? What were the politics and other forces surrounding the formation of modern Chinese art? (How) can art affect radical social change? Rather than just being shaped by social and political forces, how do artists attempt to intervene in social life and attempt to change its course of development?

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Asian Languages and Cultures 103-001* Intro-E Asian History: China Class# 27856
Class meets: Monday Wednesday Friday 11:00AM-11:50AM Location: HUMANITIES 1131
Instructor: Dennis, Joseph Raymond dennis3@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: This course will trace the evolution of modern Chinese art chronologically and thematically from the late nineteenth century to the present day. Major themes include the tension between modernity and tradition, Westernization, global cosmopolitanism and cultural nationalism, the establishment of new institutions for art, the relationship between cultural production and politics, gender identity, Chinese art and global market. We will focus on a variety of artistic media, including ink painting, oil painting, photography, print, sculpture, architecture, multimedia installations, video and performance art.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Asian Languages and Cultures 255-001* Intro East Asian Civilizations Class# 35550
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 8:00AM-9:15AM Location: INGRAHAM 22
Instructor: Detwyler, Anatoly Robert detwyler@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Multidisciplinary and historical perspectives on the East Asian civilizations of China, Japan, Korea, Tibet and Mongolia from prehistory to the present, including developments in philosophy, economy, governance, social structure, kinship, geography, etc.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Astronomy 103-002* The Evolving Universe Class# 19670
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 11:00AM-11:50AM Location: BIRGE 145
Instructor: Barger, Amy Josephine
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: The cosmos is vast, mysterious, and beautiful. Join us on an exploration of the universe, from the big bang to the birth, life, and death of stars and the warped reality of black holes. Includes lifecycles of stars; supernovae and creation of elements; white dwarfs, pulsars and black holes; the Milky Way and galaxies; distances of stars and galaxies; quasars; expansion of universe; modern big bang cosmology, dark matter, dark energy.
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Astronomy 140-001* The Exoplanet Revolution Class# 37648
Class meets: Monday Wednesday  2:25PM-3:15PM Location: STERLING 4421
Instructor: Mathieu, Robert D.
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Our Galaxy contains about 100 billion stars. Most of these stars have planets as diverse and as fascinating as the worlds in our own neighborhood, the solar system. Learn about the study of planets and exoplanets, probing some of the deepest questions science and philosophy grapple with. Explore the ways in which scientists search for and analyze planets orbiting distant stars, both in the classroom and in hands-on laboratory experiences. From moons to super-Jupiters, this course provides an engrossing introduction into the brand new science of exoplanet research.

Atmospheric and Oceanic Sciences 100-001* Weather and Climate Class# 15062
Class meets: Monday Wednesday Friday 11:00AM-11:50AM Location: BASCOM 272
Instructor: Vimont, Daniel J. dvimont@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Nature and variability of wind, temperature, cloud and precipitation. Storm systems, fronts, thunderstorms, tornadoes and their prediction. Air composition and pollution. Global winds, seasonal changes, climate and climatic change.

Botany 123-001* Plants, Parasites, & People Class# 14095
Class meets: Monday  11:00AM-11:50AM Location: RUSSELL LB 184
Instructor: Rakotondrafara, Aurelie M RAKOTONDRAFA@WISC.EDU
First Day of Class is Monday, September 12, 2021
Course Description: The course will explore the interaction between society and plant-associated microbes. Topics include: the Irish potato famine, pesticides in current agriculture, role of economics and consumer preference in crop disease management and the release of genetically engineered organisms.

Botany 123-001* Plants, Parasites, & People Class# 14095
Class meets: Monday  11:00AM-11:50AM Location: RUSSELL LB 184
Instructor: Rakotondrafara, Aurelie M RAKOTONDRAFA@WISC.EDU
First Day of Class is Monday, September 12, 2021
Course Description: The course will explore the interaction between society and plant-associated microbes. Topics include: the Irish potato famine, pesticides in current agriculture, role of economics and consumer preference in crop disease management and the release of genetically engineered organisms.

Botany 123-001* Plants, Parasites, & People Class# 14095
Class meets: Monday  11:00AM-11:50AM Location: RUSSELL LB 184
Instructor: Rakotondrafara, Aurelie M RAKOTONDRAFA@WISC.EDU
First Day of Class is Monday, September 12, 2021
Course Description: The course will explore the interaction between society and plant-associated microbes. Topics include: the Irish potato famine, pesticides in current agriculture, role of economics and consumer preference in crop disease management and the release of genetically engineered organisms.

Botany 123-001* Plants, Parasites, & People Class# 14095
Class meets: Monday  11:00AM-11:50AM Location: RUSSELL LB 184
Instructor: Rakotondrafara, Aurelie M RAKOTONDRAFA@WISC.EDU
First Day of Class is Monday, September 12, 2021
Course Description: The course will explore the interaction between society and plant-associated microbes. Topics include: the Irish potato famine, pesticides in current agriculture, role of economics and consumer preference in crop disease management and the release of genetically engineered organisms.
Botany 265-001* Rainforests and Coral Reefs Class# 23933
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:30AM-10:45AM Location: WENDT COMM 410A
Instructor: Woodward, Catherine L. CWOODWARD@WISC.EDU
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Are you awed by the amazing biodiversity found in rainforests and coral reefs? Want an opportunity to see these ecosystems first hand and decide if a career in tropical biology or international conservation is for you? This course focuses on the ecology of the world's most biodiverse ecosystems, and their global importance. Combining lecture with online discussions and case studies, you'll learn the physical, chemical, and biological processes that make rainforests and coral reefs function, and the history of human dependence upon these ecosystems. This course will help you understand why both of these ecosystems currently are threatened and what actions can and must be taken to protect them.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Botany 455-001* The Vegetation of Wisconsin Class# 16756
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 11:00AM-11:50AM Location: BIRGE 346
Instructor: Givnish, Thomas J. givnish@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Ecology of Wisconsin plant communities: floristic composition, community structure; relationship to history, climate, soil, and geology; response to human perturbation.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies 201-002* Intro to Chicana/o&Latina/o St Class# 24433
Class meets: Monday Wednesday Friday 9:55AM-10:45AM Location: WHITE 4281
Instructor: Bailon, Megan Jo bailon@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Introduction to the interdisciplinary study of Chicanas/os in the United States. Students will become acquainted with recent scholarly literature, paradigms, theories, and debates within Chicana/o studies pertaining to the historical, economic, cultural, and sociopolitical dimensions of the Chicana/o experience in the United States.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Classics 150-001* Ancient Monsters Class# 26530
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 11:00AM-12:15PM Location: GRAINGER 1295
Instructor: Brockliss, William H
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Ancient monsters were forces of chaos that threatened the natural order of the universe: they had to be contained, banished to the edges of the world or destroyed. But the Greeks and Romans also believed them to be magical beings that held the promise of special knowledge - of the past, of dangers to be faced, of musical arts - or which, like the Sphinx, possessed an enigmatic intelligence capable of fooling all but the most cunning of mortals. In this course we investigate these contrasting aspects of ancient monsters, drawing directly on texts (in translation) and works of art through which the Greeks and Romans explored the monstrous and its place in their world. We also compare ancient representations with those in modern artistic media - comics, games, stories and movies - considering both how our notions of the monstrous are influenced by or contrast with those of our ancient predecessors, and how our very identities are created by and enacted through our depictions of monsters.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Classics 300-001* Art&Archaeology-Ancient Greece Class# 19141
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 8:25AM-9:40AM Location: ELVEHJEM L150
Instructor: Aylward, William
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Explores the art and archaeology of ancient Greece from the Bronze Age through the Hellenistic period.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Classics 321-001* The Egyptians Class# 34462
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:30AM-10:45AM Location: NUTRI SCI 290
Instructor: Hutton, Jeremy M
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: An introduction to the study of Ancient Egypt, analyzing its political clout through two millennia of history, its society and economy, its variegated religious systems, the art and literature it produced, and its reception in the modern period.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Classics 373-003* Hebrew Lit: Bible to Present Class# 36149
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 11:00AM-12:15PM Location: STERLING 1339
Instructor: Zilbergerts, Marina
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Selected aspects of Classical culture (e.g., sports, women, the family, warfare), with emphasis on literary remains.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Communication Arts 313-001* Film and Media Studies - Global Cinema History Class# 28126
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 2:30PM-3:45PM Location: HUMANITIES 1217
Instructor: Shubert, Amanda
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Students explore a topic in film and media studies, history, and theory; the topic varies from semester to semester. LAB - Wednesdays, 5-7pm 4070 Vilas Hall

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Communication Arts 351-001* Television Industries Class# 14415
Class meets: Thursday 11:00AM-11:50AM Location: EDUC SCI 204
Instructor: Johnson, Derek Ronald
First Day of Class is Thursday, September 9, 2021
Course Description: Critical overview of the cultural industries driving television in the United States, from broadcast networks and cable to downloading and streaming, focusing on economic and regulatory structures, programming practices, labor, globalization, audiences, and adaptations to changing conditions in the digital age.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Communication Arts 359-001* Sports Media Class# 30474
Class meets: Thursday 2:30PM-3:45PM Location: EDUC SCI 301
Instructor: Lopez, Jason R.
First Day of Class is Thursday, September 9, 2021
Course Description: Examines sports media using the frameworks of media and cultural studies. The relationship between sports and popular culture provides an important site for understanding and critiquing the media’s relationships to social, cultural, economic, and political structures. Topics for discussion will include sports media industries and technologies; representations of race, class, gender, sexual orientation, nationality, and other identities; and the intersection of sports media cultures with such issues as activism and social change, ethics and morality, gambling and fantasy sports, celebrity athletes, and fandom.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Communication Arts 420-001* Asian Americans and Media Class# 34530
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:30AM-10:45AM Location: INGRAHAM 122
Instructor: Lopez, Lori Kido
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Examines representations of Asian American in American media using historical, analytical, and critical approaches. Issues of cultural production, identity, race, politics, and gender are linked to examinations of specific media forms.
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Communication Arts 552-001* Contemporary Hollywood Cinema Class# 33994
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 12:05PM-12:55PM Location: VILAS 4070
Instructor: Smith, Jeffrey Paul
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: LAB 301 - Tuesday, 6:30-8:30pm 4070 Vilas Hall An examination of contemporary Hollywood films focusing on the interrelations of cinematic narrative, style, technology, and institutions.
It surveys the work of major directors and considers the box office impact of key genres and film cycles.
Among the films screened in the course are DIE HARD, TOY STORY, INGLOURIOUS BASTERDS and INCEPTION.
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Folklore 100-001* Introduction to Folklore Class# 14518
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 3:30PM-4:20PM Location: EDUC SCI 204
Instructor: Cederstrom, Bror Marcus Leal cederstrom@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Surveys folklore in the United States and around the world, with a comparative emphasis on ways in which individuals and groups use beliefs, songs, stories, sayings, dances, festivals, and artifacts to address issues of identity, authenticity, and authority, in complex societies.
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Gender and Women's Studies 102-001* Gender, Women & Society-Global Class# 19493
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 9:55AM-10:45AM Location: STERLING 1310
Instructor: Phelps, Katherine Anne kphelps@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Global, interdisciplinary, social science-oriented analysis of gender, race, class and sexuality in relationship to social institutions and movements for social change. Focus on gender and women in institutions such as education, the economy, the family, law, media, medicine, and politics. Enroll Info: None

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Gender and Women's Studies 331-001* Gend/Class/Race/Ethn-SocSci, Race, Health and Medicine
Class# 34896
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 8:00AM-9:15AM Location: CHAMBERLIN 2120
Instructor: Ward, Kelly Marie kelly.m.ward@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Topics in the feminist study of inequality and difference based on class, gender and race/ethnicity, with a social science emphasis. Enroll Info: None
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Gender and Women's Studies 522-001* Psychology of Women and Gender
Class# 35166
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:30AM-10:45AM Location: PSYCHOLOGY 103
Instructor: Hyde, Janet S. jshyde@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Examination of theories and research on the psychology of women and gender. Explores topics such as sex bias in psychological research; psychological aspects of female sexuality and reproduction; gender-based violence; female achievement and power; lifestyle choices of women; women and mental health; and psychological research with transgender individuals. Enroll Info: None
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Geography 139-001* Global Environmental Issues
Class# 18530
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 2:25PM-3:15PM Location: AGR HALL 125
Instructor: Robertson, Morgan McEuen
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Explores the global and local nature of environmental problems, including issues of climate change, food, energy, globalization, deforestation, biodiversity loss, resource access, environmental justice, and population. Considers how we should analyze and act on environmental problems as we confront the apparently daunting scale of such issues. What appear to be single global environmental issues are actually composed of many smaller, context-specific, and place-dependent problems or conflicts. Through an interdisciplinary and geographic perspective, these issues can be understood and addressed at the scale of our lived lives. Enroll Info: None

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Geography 318-001* Introduction to Geopolitics Class# 30128
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 1:00PM-2:15PM Location: SCIENCE 444
Instructor: Kaiser, Robert J.
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Introduction to the contemporary study of geopolitics, featuring the main concepts and research themes encountered in this field. Examine the formation of geopolitical images of the world, where these images come from, and how they have shaped our thinking and politics over time. Enroll Info: Sophomore standing

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Geography 337-001* Nature, Power and Society Class# 26368
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 2:30PM-3:45PM Location: WHITE 4281
Instructor: Baird, Ian G
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Explores the links between nature, power and society in today’s world. The course considers the complex relationships between humans and the earth’s resources, including food, energy, physical materials, water, biota, and landscapes; it considers issues linked to population and scarcity, resource tenure, green consumerism, political economy, environmental ethics, risks and hazards, political ecology, and environmental justice. Enroll Info: Sophomore standing. Not open to students who took Geog/Env 139 in 2010-11, 2011-12 or 2012-13.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Geoscience 109-001* Geology of the National Parks Class# 26679
Class meets: Asynchronous N/A-N/A Location: ONLINE
Instructor: Bauer, Ann M
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Famously called "America's best idea", the National Parks of the US record two-thirds of Earth's history, from the most ancient mountains to active volcanic eruptions. The geologic story of the National Parks is explored in the framework of physiography, tectonics, time, and fundamental geologic processes, highlighting the major parks from Hawaii, to Alaska, to the conterminous US. In aggregate, the course provides the student with a view of the geological evolution of the Earth using specific examples that they are likely to visit in their lifetime. Enroll Info: None

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form.

A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsswisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Geoscience 331-001* Gems: Sci Behind the Sparkle Class# 35236
Class meets: Asynchronous  N/A-N/A Location: ONLINE
Instructor: Xu, Huifang
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: This online course covers many of the important aspects of gemology. It explores the formation, collection, properties, and treatment of many popular gemstones. Enroll Info: Jr stdts who have taken Geosci 306 are not eligible for 331. Geosci 331 does not count toward the geol major

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsswisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT COURSES CAN BE FOUND HERE: https://history.wisc.edu/courses/senior-guest-auditors/

Landscape Architecture 250-006* Survey of Land Arch Design Class# 10062
Class meets: Asynchronous  N/A-N/A Location: ONLINE
Instructor: Hadley, Douglas B dbhadley@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Principles of landscape and environmental design; incorporates elements of landscape planning and management. Provides background to the ideas and personalities shaping landscape architecture in America. Enroll Info: None IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsswisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Landscape Architecture 263-001* Landscape Plants I Class# 33700
Class meets: Monday  3:30PM-4:45PM Location: MOORE 351
Instructor: Jull, Laura G. LGJULL@WISC.EDU
First Day of Class is Monday, September 12, 2021
Course Description: Field identification, landscape characteristics, uses, environmental requirements, adaptability of woody ornamental plants; their autumn and winter character. Enroll Info: An intro botany crse or cons inst
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Music 101-001* The Musical Experience Class# 14604
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 11:00AM-11:50AM Location: GRAINGER 2120
Instructor: Mok, Lucille
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Musical genres -- songs, opera and musical theater, chamber and orchestral music, and jazz -- in the context of social and cultural history.

Music 107-001* Music & Film Class# 34642
Class meets: Thursday 3:30PM-6:00PM Location: HUMANITIES 2441
Instructor: Schwendinger, Laura
First Day of Class is Thursday, September 9, 2021
Course Description: A survey of film music by the major film composers. Will include study of film scores by, among others, Alfred Newman, Max Steiner, Bernard Herrmann, and Ennio Morricone, as well as a discussion of current trends and film composers. In addition, there will be discussion of the contributions of composers such as Aaron Copland, Serge Prokofiev and Leonard Bernstein. The techniques and styles of film music will be explored through lectures, required listening, readings and viewing of relevant films. Enroll Info: None

Philosophy 503-001* Theory of Knowledge Class# 32097
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 1:00PM-2:15PM Location: WHITE 5181
Instructor: Titelbaum, Michael G
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: A survey of problems concerning the nature, sources, and limits of human knowledge, including such topics as scepticism, the concept of knowledge, sensory perception, evidence, justified belief, induction.
Philosophy 534-001* Ethics and the Brain Class# 35225
Class meets:  Tuesday  Thursday  1:00PM-2:15PM  Location: VAN VLECK B223
Instructor:  Kreitmair, Karola V
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description:  In-depth analysis of ethical issues arising from the practices and advances of brain science in clinical, research, legal, and consumer contexts. Includes a foundation in ethical theory and philosophical methodology. Designed for upper-level undergraduates and graduate students. Enroll Info:  None
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly.  The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form.  If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form.  A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acss.s.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.

Philosophy 555-002* Political Philosophy Class# 36733
Class meets:  Monday  Wednesday  2:30PM-3:45PM  Location: VILAS 4020
Instructor:  Brighouse, Michael Harry
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description:  Philosophical doctrines involved in justification of political decisions; analysis of some fundamental concepts, e.g. the common good, authority, justice, natural law, natural rights. Enroll Info:  None
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly.  The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form.  If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form.  A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acss.s.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Political Science 217-001* Law, Politics and Society Class# 36413
Class meets:  Tuesday  Thursday  11:00AM-12:15PM  Location: ONLINE
Instructor:  Murchison, Melanie J
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description:  Synchronous course- meets online at designated date and times. Introduction to the legal process. Examination of the various concepts of law, the perennial problems of the law, legal reasoning, and the nature and function of law and the courts. Enroll Info:  None

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly.  The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form.  If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form.  A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acss.s.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Political Science 320-001* Middle East Politics Class# 36780
Class meets:  Tuesday  Thursday  9:30AM-10:45AM  Location: WHITE 4281
Instructor:  Brooke, Steven
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description:  An introduction to the most pertinent themes to the study of politics and governance in the Middle East. Main topics to be covered: political economy of the region; link between Islam, culture and democracy; the politics of authoritarianism; and political Islam. Enroll Info: None

Political Science 332-001* German Politics Class# 34473
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 4:00PM-5:15PM Location: EDUCATION L155
Instructor: Ringe, Nils
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: A broad overview of politics in Germany, Europe's politically and economically most powerful country. The course is structured around several broad themes: political institutions, electoral system and elections, parties and party system, interest representation, political participation, political economy, the legacies of Germany's past, social policy, European and foreign policy, and current and future challenges. Throughout the semester, we will relate the German experience to broader issues, problems, and concepts used in the comparative study of domestic politics. Enroll Info: None

Political Science 360-001* Hist-Amer Political Thought Class# 34562
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 11:00AM-12:15PM Location: SOC SCI 5231
Instructor: Schwarze, Michelle Ann
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: The intellectual origins and evolution of American political thought as seen through the lens of leading politicians, novelists and social critics from the Puritans to the Civil War; consideration of the central tensions of American political thought from a contemporary perspective.

Political Science 365-002* Machiavelli and His World Class# 37073
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 11:00AM-11:50AM Location: MICROBIAL SCIENCES BLDG 1520
Instructor: Phillips-Court, Kristin
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Introduces students to the major works of Machiavelli through the close reading of his writings in cultural and historical contexts. Discussion and targeted writing assignments will aim at cultivating in students 1) a broad understanding of Machiavelli’s principal intellectual attitudes, 2) a deeper understanding of his literary sensibility, and 3) the ability to articulate controversies and complexities surrounding his thought. Enroll Info: None when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Political Science 411-001* The American Constitution I Class# 30064
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 9:30AM-10:45AM Location: BIOCHEM 1120
Instructor: Schweber, Howard H
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: This course undertakes an historical examination of the development of American classical thinking about powers and structures of government from the founding era to the present day. Issue that are considered include separation of powers, executive war powers, the powers of Congress, judicial review and the role of courts, and federalism. The course focuses on the development of constitutional law, constitutional politics, and American political development. Enroll
Info: None

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Political Science 463-001* Deception and Politics Class# 34832
Class meets: Monday Wednesday Friday 2:30PM-3:45PM Location: AGR HALL 10
Instructor: Zhao, Xinzhi
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: This course deals with deception and truth telling as matters of fundamental political concern. Writers ranging from Plato to John Rawls have grappled with the problem of deception and truth-telling in politics. Flattery, hypocrisy, lying as a matter of state, lying as a matter of policy:
philosophical explorations of these and related phenomena are at the center of this course. Enroll Info: None

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Political Science 470-001* The First Amendment Class# 31502
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 4:00PM-5:15PM Location: SCIENCE 180
Instructor: Boersma, John
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: An examination of the basic principles, purposes, and assumptions of First Amendment cases and literature, with attention to both historical and contemporary controversies.
Enroll Info: None

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor
Psychology 120-001* Art/Sci of Human Flourishing Class# 31770
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 11:00AM-11:50AM Location: VAN VLECK B130
Instructor: Dunne, John D. jddunne@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Explore perspectives related to human flourishing from the sciences and humanities; investigate themes such as transformation, resilience, compassion, diversity, gratitude, community; expand self-awareness, enhanced social connectivity, and ability to change; formulate a sense of what it means to lead a flourishing life that sustains meaningful and fulfilling engagement with studies, relationships, community, and career. Enroll Info: None

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Psychology 401-001* Psychology Law & Social Policy Class# 26453
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 5:30PM-6:45PM Location: PSYCHOLOGY 107
Instructor: Caldwell, Michael F. mfcaldwell@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Focuses on the role that psychological principles, research evidence and social science play in the laws of U.S. society, especially in the policies and mechanisms of social control of human behavior. The course will address the ways that society defines membership, and the role of psychology in how it determines who should be excluded or restricted from open society, in order to maintain a more civil society. In addition to learning the factual information about how selected processes work in the legal and social context, students will be asked to consider the role they can play as citizens in supporting or changing these social processes. The course will take a particular interest in psycholegal issues "in action" and in learning about the clinical-legal processes used to determine the disposition of individuals considered marginal in society. Finally, the course will address the mechanisms that are used to exclude individuals from open society through criminal and civil court processes, the role of psychology as a science, and the role of psychologists as behavioral experts in criminal and civil courts, and in shaping social policies. Enroll Info: None

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Psychology 405-001* Abnormal Psychology Class# 14771
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 2:30PM-3:45PM Location: PSYCHOLOGY 105
Instructor: Gooding, Diane C. dgooding@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: A survey course of psychopathology. In this breadth course, we will discuss the diagnosis and treatment of the major mental disorders. We will also consider the current thinking regarding the biological, psychological, and sociocultural factors that play contributing roles in the etiology and maintenance of these disorders. Historical trends as well as advances in neuroscience will be considered in terms of how they have affected our understanding of psychopathology.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Psychology 456-001* Social Psychology Class# 35738
Class meets: Tuesday Thursday 11:00AM-12:15PM Location: PSYCHOLOGY 113
Instructor: Scott, Katharine Elisabeth kscott4@wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Introduce classic and contemporary theories and research in the field, with an emphasis on experimental methodology. Examine the psychological study of the individual in the social world, including social interaction, motivation, attitudes, conformity, communication, leadership, personal relationships, and behavior in small groups.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Religious Studies 203-001* Jewish Law, Business, Ethics Class# 31668
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 12:05PM-12:55PM Location: SOC SCI 5106
Instructor: Rosenblum, Jordan D JROSENBLUM@WISC.EDU
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Explores the development of Jewish law from antiquity to modernity, with a focus on legal questions related to business practices and ethics. Consider issues ranging from ethical practices in agriculture to how to run a modern multi billion-dollar kosher industry; from the ethics of Jews celebrating Thanksgiving to regulations governing the preparation, consumption, and sale of coffee. Enroll Info: None

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Sociology 131-001* Criminal Justice in America Class# 15453
Class meets: Monday Wednesday 2:30PM-3:45PM Location: INGRAHAM B10
Instructor: Grunewald, Ralph Pierre
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Day-to-day functioning of the elements of the criminal justice system in the U.S. Nature of crime in the U.S., ideas about causes and solutions. Emphasis on the sociology of the components of criminal justice system—organization and roles of police, lawyers, court and correctional personnel. Enroll Info: Open to Fr & So only, until end of Fr reg period. Stdts may receive cr for only one of the following: Soc 131 or 431

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Sociology 220-001* Ethnic Movements in U.S. Class# 36668
Class meets: Monday  Wednesday   9:55AM-10:45AM Location: SOC SCI 5106
Instructor: Gathman, Cabell Hankinson
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Sociological analysis of historical and recent ethnic/racial conflict and movements in the U.S., including the relations between European Americans, African Americans, Mexican Americans, Native Americans, and Asian Americans, with additional material on other groups and relations. Enroll Info: None

Sociology 422-001* Social Issues in Aging Class# 26620
Class meets: Tuesday    3:30PM-5:25PM Location: SOCIAL WRK 106
Instructor: Schroepfer, Tracy A
First Day of Class is Tuesday, September 14, 2021
Course Description: Origins, nature, scope and dynamics of the social problems of older adults and their families in the U.S. and to acquaint students with programs and services available to older adults. Enroll Info: None

Sociology 440-001* Ethnicity, Race, and Justice Class# 28360
Class meets: Monday   Wednesday   4:00PM-5:15PM Location: BIRGE B302
Instructor: Light, Michael Thomas
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: An examination of ethnicity, race, and justice, with a specific emphasis on US Latinos, the largest minority group in the United States. Enroll Info: None
IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form by September 8.

Zoology 302-001* Introduction to Entomology Class# 14891
Class meets: Monday  Wednesday  Friday 11:00AM-11:50AM Location: RUSSELL LB 150
Instructor: Young, Daniel K. young@entomology.wisc.edu
First Day of Class is Wednesday, September 8, 2021
Course Description: Principles including morphology and classification; a general collection of insects required of each student.

IF an email for the instructor is listed above do not email them directly. The email will be needed when filling out the online permission form. If it is NOT listed, an email is already pre-populated in the request form. A link to the permission request form can be found on the senior guest auditor website at acsss.wisc.edu/senior-guest-auditors/ Please complete the form before September 8.